

Summer 2009 Master List of Videostreaming Policies (5/13/09)

In an effort to help center and site staff properly inform students, this table has been created which outlines viewing policies for instructors teaching over ITV this coming Summer 2009 semester. As many of you are aware tape delay should now be called delayed viewing as ITV courses are now recorded as digital videostreams as well as on videotape and DVDs.

There are 3 possible delayed viewing options:

1. Delayed viewing (DV) allowed, NO permission required. Students may view recorded lectures via videostreams/ VHS/DVD. There is no need to gain the instructor's permission to do so. Do not forget to look at the Delayed-viewing Exam column as many instructors require delayed-viewing students to take exams in real time with the rest of the class.
2. Delayed viewing (DV) allowed, permission required. Delayed viewing of the course via videostreams/VHS/DVD is allowed only for those students who have sought and gained the instructor's permission to do so. If a student asks how to gain such permission give the student the instructor's contact information and recommend to the student that they keep a copy of the instructor's response as part of their course records.
3. Delayed viewing (DV) is NOT allowed. This means that instructors expect students to view the course in real time, at their registered site/center.

The column labeled Videostream Location tells you WHERE the videostreams for that particular course will be loaded:

1. EMBEDDED means that registered students will be able to access the course through the course BlackBoard website from any PC (not MAC) with broadband access.
2. CENTERS ONLY means that videostreams of that course will be available only at UC locations where staff members have been granted access to a specific BlackBoard site which upon student request, they can log onto, start the stream and then log out. You may hear this BlackBoard site referred to as the 'bucket site'; this is because all 'CENTERS ONLY' videostreams are dumped into one BlackBoard site = the bucket. Videostreams for any instructors for which we do not have policies will be placed into the bucket site.
